PAY AND ALLOWANCES—STRAIT.

Straits, No 5118 February 1913.

No. 5118 F. Geny.—Under the authority of His Majesty's Secretary of State for India, the Government-General in Council directs the publication in notification of Finance Department notification No. 775-P, dated the 17th July 1912, of the following Regulations regarding the "Indian Military Widows and Orphan Fund." They come into force with effect from the 1st January 1913.

Indian Military Widows and Orphan Fund.

I. The following regulations are designed to secure an ample provision for the widows and orphans of officers of the Indian Army, officers of the Indian Medical Service, officers and employees of the Royal Indian Navy, and the dependants of the Indian Estateholders, not being subscribers under the Indian Military Service Family Pension Regulations, also of widows and orphans of Royal Artillery and Royal Engineer officers, as well as Royal Engineer officers under the 1904 conditions of service, who, not being subscribers under the Indian Military Service Family Pension Regulations, elect to contribute to this fund.

II. Such pensions and compassionate allowances as are, by Royal Warrant, granted to the widows and families of military officers of the British Service, are granted from Indian revenues to the widows and families of military officers in the service of the Government of India. It is not intended by the present regulations to impose on the revenues of India any further expenditure for this object except such additional expenditure as may arise under the operation of paragraphs V, VII and VIII. On the other hand, it is not intended that the revenues of India shall in any way profit by these regulations.

III. The Secretary of State for India in Council reserves to himself the absolute right to modify from time to time the contributions to be required from officers, in order to give effect to these principles, and to make any alterations in the regulations that may appear to him equitable; provided always that the scale of pensions shall not be reduced in the case of actual members. The Secretary of State in Council will endeavour to adjust the contributions to be levied from officers exactly, so that they shall neither be too large nor too small to supply the pensions provided by the regulations. But if it should appear on experience that they have been fixed too low, the Government will not require any supplementary retrospective payments; and if they are found to have been fixed too high, no claim on behalf will be admitted.

IV. The scheme will be completed as establishing a fund, which will be shown as such in the accounts of the Government of India, and the balance in the credit will be a debt for which the Government of India will be responsible. Accounts will be kept of all receipts and payments, and at the close of each half-year this fund will be credited with interest at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum on the sum of the balances as they stood at the beginning and end of each half-year.

V. The rate of interest allowed will in no case be reduced below 4 per cent. per annum; but if at any of the periodical valuations referred to in paragraph VIII it is found that the rate of interest paid on loans secured on Indian revenue has exceeded 4 per cent. for a sufficiently long time to justify the Secretary of State in Council in thinking that the rate is likely to be permanent, the interest allowed on the balance at the credit of the fund will be increased.

VI. Contributions of money into the fund and of repayments into the fund in accordance with these regulations and in the amounts will be made at the rate of 50 pence upon the pound sterling.

VII. The cost of management will be borne by the State.

VIII. All useful statements of ages, births, marriages, and deaths will be carefully registered, and these statistics, with the amounts, will be submitted at each period as may be decided on by the Secretary of State in Council to such officers or committees as he may select, with instructions to investigate and ascertain whether the rates of contributions are such as will, at the rate of interest then to be determined in accordance with paragraph V and at the rate of exchange specified in paragraph VI, supply the pensions payable under these regulations, and no more. The expenses of such statistical inquiries and reports will be borne by the State.

IX. Upon the report of the officers or committee the Secretary of State in Council will make any necessary alterations in the rates of contributions; but this is not the intention that an alteration in the rate of contribution shall be made in respect of a slight variation in mortality as savings experience disclosed on the particular valuation.

X. The report of the officers or committee, with the orders of the Secretary of State in Council thereupon, will be published in the Gazette of India, and any alteration ordered in the rates of contribution will take effect from the beginning of the month following the date of such publication. No retrospective adjustments will be made.

220. Board approved and recorded the minutes of the proceedings of the previous meeting held on Friday the 5th February 1915.

221. Board read and adopted a draft of a letter by the Chairman to Government submitting for sanction a revised estimate amounting to Rs. 25,00,000 in subscription for that for the most recent sanctioned by G.O. No. 21, Madras, dated the 10th February 1915, which was recorded by Port Trust Board Resolution No. 118, dated the 14th February 1915.

222. Board read a letter, dated the 5th February 1915, from Messrs. Harben, Woodroffe & Co., Agents for the S. S. "Kirkfield," with reference to Messrs. Esch & Co.'s request for a refund of interest due on 9 bags of fire-bricks from the above vessel.

Resolved that the charges objected to, Rs. 35-10-0, be referred to Ex. 24-2-A, as advised by the Traffic Manager and the Chairman.

223. Board read a note, dated the 10th February 1915, which had been handed to the Chairman by Mr. H. R. G. Mitchell, Executive Engineer, Madras Port Trust, and Mayor of the Madras City Municipal Corporation, requesting on behalf of the Adolphus Street how many subscriptions are willing to serve anyone, residing in India or in the vicinity of the land frontage, and stating that also daily-paid engineering employees in the Trust's service and four monthly-paid traffic employees, all of whom are Auxiliary Volunteers, are willing to serve and that he himself is also willing to serve if he can be spared.

Resolved that, subject to a ruling of Government that it is permissible so to divert Port Trust funds, all the same daily paid men be permitted to serve away from the harbour as proposed and that while so serving they be paid, half pay by the Trust. Also that three out of the four monthly-paid traffic men can only be allowed to be served, and no other conditions, of the above volunteer traffic employees at present "fully employed" be recalled to full time Port Trust service.

The Board also considered Mr. H. R. G. Mitchell's offer to serve as proposed if he can be spared, and resolved that he cannot be spared. For the superior staff is too small to be further depleted at a time when capital expenditure at the rate of Rs. 25 lakhs per annum is in progress.

224. Board, at that Government is requesting that Khwa Bahadur Muhammad Abdul Kader Bahadur Sahib be nominated to represent the Port Trust as a Commissioner on the Corporation of Madras.

225. Forwarded a list of claims amounting to Rs. 125-0-0 paid during January 1915.

The water of the Rain-gauge is measured above the level of the sea, and the amount of the Rain-gauge is two feet from the ground. The wind, sea and general weather registered are for the nearest Civil Day—from midnight to midnight.

The total quantity of rain collected since January 1st to 1914, under the average day for the same period being 1.22 inches.

DEATH OF THE HON'BLE MR. GOPAL KRISHNA GOKHALE, C. I. E.

The Hon'ble the President said: "It was with deep regret that on the morning of the 25th I received the sad news of the premature death during the previous night of the Hon'ble Mr. Gokhale, Member of this Council. I had learnt that he had been compelled by indisposition to delay his arrival in Delhi, his departure having been to some extent for the morning of Council today, and it was a great shock to me, as it must have been to us all, to learn that he had quietly passed away.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Gopal Krishna Gokhale was born at Kolhapur in the year 1866. I need not go into the details of his earlier life beyond mentioning that Mr. Gokhale took his degree as Bachelor of Arts in 1894, in the University of Bombay, of which university he subsequently became a fellow. Almost immediately afterwards he began to devote himself to the cause of education. For 20 years he served as a lecturer at the Fergusson College, Poona, specialising particularly in History and Economics, a subject into which he threw himself with so much fervour and zeal that he himself was educated, and accordingly well at the same time giving much of his time to establishing up the college on a sound financial basis. During this period, of his life, he began to take a prominent part in public life and was for four years Secretary to the Provincial Congress of Bombay; in 1915 he became of the Joint Secretaries of the Indian National Congress and continued for many years to labour in that capacity. In 1907 he went to England as one of the witnesses before the Royal Commission on Indian Expenditure and gave evidence which was of great importance and value. In 1908 he was elected a Member of the Bombay Legislative Council, and in 1909 he was elected as a representative of the Bombay Council to the Imperial Legislative Council. This office he continued to hold until the date of his death.

"In 1921 he was made a Companion of the Most Excellent Order of the Indian Empire. In 1925 he was President of the Indian National Congress and in the next year founded the Gandhi Research Institute and the Society of the Students of India. Later on he paid several visits to England and India, and was in the various causes he had so much at heart, and I have always understood that he took a quiet but active part in the conversations that led up to the reform of the and other Indian Councils. Finally in 1928 he was appointed a member of the Royal Commission on Public Services in India.

"Such are some of the very distinguished services of the Hon'ble Mr. Gokhale but not all, for as Council he was well known as a speaker of conspicuous ability and wonderful eloquence, while his sound common sense and sound judgment secured for him a commanding position among the people men of this country. He was a loyal supporter of British rule in India, but nevertheless was also as many consider a fearless critic of the administrative methods and policy of Government and never hesitated to show a criticism to any measure or action which, in his opinion, was improper or open to censure. He argued in financial and educational questions in particular his attacks were frequently most forcible and incisive, so much so indeed that the chairman of his speeches were frequently torn to the heart to read his arguments. Though, however, a severe critic of those who opposed him, he was always dignified and courteous in debate, and even when unsuccessful in securing his object improved all who heard him not only with his skill, but with his intense earnestness and desire to do what was in his opinion right. He took a prominent part in all debates of importance during his period of office in Council, especially in those relating to finance, education and administrative questions.

"During my period of office the most important measure in which Mr. Gokhale was interested was the Bill to make better provision for the extension of primary education. Though he failed in inducing the Council to accept the Bill, all those who heard him will remember the extraordinary force and ability with which he pressed his views.

"It is also right that as this Council I should refer to the important part taken by Mr. Gokhale in legislative questions and in particular that relating to Indian immigration into South Africa. In this question, as in all other political questions, Mr. Gokhale stood consistently for the maintenance of the conditions of Indians and for the promotion of their welfare, and in his opinion it was largely due to him and his faithful and untiring efforts during his visit to South Africa that the thorny question eventually received a satisfactory solution.

"In my personal relations with Mr. Gokhale I have always regarded him as one of the most important Members of my Council but also as a friend. On more than one occasion he has given me advice which I found to be both sound and wise, and I may mention that in the South African immigration question he rendered me most loyal and helpful assistance. It was only on the 10th of the day that I recommended to His Majesty the King-Emperor the appointment of Mr. Gokhale as Knight Commander of the Indian Empire as a mark of recognition of his valuable services, and Mr. Gokhale, with that simplicity of nature which characterized him, gratefully acknowledged his intention, but asked to remain as he was.

"He has now left us and we shall feel the void he has created, for one may truly say that it will be almost impossible to fill his place as Indian public life. I understood that the Hon'ble Mr. Gopalachandrarao Desai, in a few words as a tribute of sympathy to the Hon'ble Members of my Council and after that I propose to address the Council on the death of our noble Member of my Council and after that I propose to address the Council on the death of our noble Member, the Hon'ble Mr. Gokhale. May he rest in peace."

The Hon'ble Mr. Gopalachandrarao Desai:—My Lord, the sentence is painful. As the speaker on behalf of the Hon'ble Members of this Council I must express our profound sorrow at the death of Mr. Gokhale. Every word that has fallen from your Excellency strikes a sympathetic chord in our hearts; indeed, it is difficult to convey in another language the depth of our feeling on this sad occasion.

My Lord, to me personally, as to many others on this Council, the loss is very great and very painful. Mr. Gokhale was a friend with whom my relations were always cordial and intimate, and the friendship formed in our youth was renewed and strengthened by years of close association in public work both on this Council and outside. His death has on this account been a great blow to me.

But the sorrow by death from the same of his apartment of a man like Mr. Gokhale is far more than a personal loss to his friends. It will be difficult to fill up the void created by it in Indian public life. The "Pioneer" has written that the death of such a man was a national misfortune. Mr. Gokhale combined under an unassuming exterior as many rare qualities of head and heart. It was remarkable because age that Mr. Gokhale was working in his life on the altar of the Motherland. This devotion was a shining trait, not only with reference to an particular period of his life, but also to the whole of his life. There was hardly a moment when he was not doing something or other with the sole object of helping in the emancipation of the Indian people. And he always applied himself to his work with absolute purity of mind, unswerving honesty. If he had been a hardworking in the public sense and some sacrifice of his health, he would, I am sure, have been speedily to cheer as with his genial presence. His splendid talent and unerring industry were alike applied to the service of his country, the country he loved most and the political advancement of which he so ardently advocated. When the future history of a progressive India comes to be written Mr. Gokhale will stand out in bold relief as a strong advocate of political measures to which a good deal of that progress is due. Mr. Gokhale's real study of public affairs made his services invaluable, and his untiring handling of them served many a difficult situation. His participation in the settlement of the South African Indians question has been acknowledged by all to have been productive of solid results with your Excellency's whole-hearted and sympathetic support; and his later services in the cause of Indian education that feature as a fine legacy as a philosophical and self-sacrificing worker in that cause. My Lord, if Mr. Gokhale is remembered for his varied and unswerving public activity, his work in this Council will form a brilliant page in his history. There among the non-official members who had the privilege to be his colleagues have exerted to give him every assistance, especially for his services he always displayed in the discussion of the various subjects and his splendid power of debate. But, my Lord, his brilliant example will be with us to inspire us to our humble work. Mr. Gokhale had quite a passionate fondness for Council work, and even in the last days of his serious illness he was anxious to join us here. Indeed, he was only prevented from doing the same by his medical advisers. We can do our departed and worthy friend to pay the tribute to his memory.

"I will here, with your Excellency's kind permission, read a telegram which has been received from Mr. Tatyana Gokhale's sister-in-law with his intention of sympathy.

"Telegram from the Hon'ble Mr. C. P. Venkayachari, Madras, to the Hon'ble Mr. P. N. Venkayachari, Delhi, dated 22nd February 1925.

"Honourable Mr. Gokhale's and untimely death has naturally caused deep universal sorrow. Loss to both Council and country, great, irreparable. Desiring to associate myself with resolution of sympathy in Council tomorrow."

"I have also received a telegram of sympathy from the Hon'ble Mr. Ray Chaudhary, Lucknow, our late Finance Minister, in connection with Mr. Gokhale's death."

The Council adjourned on Wednesday, the 24th February 1925.
